HIGH POINT, N. C., THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 1921

On Printing the News.

Apparently without any particular case in mind, the New Franklin (Mo.) News observes in a general way:

"Suppose an editor should, just for once, relieve his mind by printing all the news he happened to know at that minute? Positions would be thrown up, citizens arrested, families disrupted, fights fought on every street corner, candidates resigning, business men turning things over to their clerks for a season, hired girls hunting new jobs, and so down a list of casualties—and the editor would be so mused up that his corpse couldn't be identified by his own family. A newspaper man doesn't know everything, but his work is such that he hears a lot that common sense, common decency and common prudence keeps out of the papers."

Beforethetmodern girl kisses to make up, she makes up to kiss.—Norfolk Virginia-Pilot.

A standpatter is one who holds a point of vantage near the feed trough.—Baltimore Sun.

A man operating a snow shovel is one to whom you can give an inch and he won't take a mile.—Detroit News.

True, women's clothes still cost a good deal. But then, just think what they have to show for it!—Washington Post.

Petticoats are cheaper; which proves that a thing is not always valuable merely because it is rare.—Detroit Free Press.

To the woman who hasn't a cook it is at least a satisfaction to know that she is her own boss.—Petersburg (Va.) Index-Appal.

It can be said of very few men that when they are pulled up by the roots there'll be a hole to look at.—Ashland (Mo.) Bugle.

A lot of merchants are stopping their advertising because business is bad. They should also stop their life insurance because their health is bad.—Baudette (Minn.) Region.

The French are talking of abolishing their kissing custom. They might as well, in the interest of conversation if for no other reason. Why should men waste kisses on each other?—Winona (Minn.) Republican-Herald.

Someone has said that there is too much "sex" in the movies. There is too much "sex" in all walks of life, and still we don't know what to do with it or "them"—Lake City (Minn.) Graphic-Republican.

The example of the helpful hen may well be studied by followers of the industries these days. Although the price of eggs has fallen 24 cents a dozen in the last two weeks, she goes right on producing just the same.—Lawrence (Kan.) Journal-World.

By MARY CLODFELTER

Small pox has been very bad in Wallburg for the past few weeks. Not as bad though as it has been in Winston Arline Garrison of Wallburg, had a very bad case of it but he is reported as getting along very well now. Dr. Yokley, of Lexington, has been vaccinating quite a few people, for the past several days.

We sincerely hope that Mr. J. J. Hayworth, of High Point, will be elected councilman. He is so well known and from various contacts, business as well as social, with him, we feel that he could do a lot of good.

Miss Wilmer Clodfelter is spending this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weevil.

We are glad to learn that Miss Lou Hine is much improved.

T. D. Myers is reported as greatly improved.

The meeting closed at Wallburg Friday night.

We feel sure if some of the people who ride around in their old dilapidated looking cars could look at them themselves, we wouldn't see so much of them riding around day and night.

The cool spell which we recently had didn't kill all the fruit. Practically all the peaches were killed, but apples and strawberries seem to be all right. Most all the gardens are damaged. Garden peas are hurt, but I think will outgrow that. Wheat and oats aren't hurt much. We should be very thankful that it isn't any worse than what it is.

Mrs. William Poole and son, James, who have been visiting Mrs. Poole's mother, Mrs. Westmoreland, of Rural Hall, have just returned home.

Mrs. Mary Clodfelter had as her guest last Thursday, Miss Annie Cooke.

The new residence which John Clodfelter is building, when completed, will be one of the prettiest homes in this community.

Training Our Future Citizens.

"Children trained to extend justice, kindness and mercy to animals become more just, kind and considerate toward each other. Character training along these lines when the children are young, will result in their being better men and women, with broader sympathies, more humane-law abiding, and in every way more valuable citizens."
